Dear Classmate,

If you’re already making plans to be in Palo Alto on the fourth weekend in October, great. We’ll meet you there. If you really can’t make it, we’ll miss you. But if you’re sort of sitting on the fence, please consider the following:

Top Ten Reasons that You Should Attend Our Reunion

10. October is probably the best month in the Bay Area, especially on the Farm.

9. You can start practicing the Axe Cheer at the football game vs. Washington State and get it right in time for Big Game.

8. You might get another chance to kiss someone in the middle of the Quad at midnight.

7. If six months in Europe are not in the “Cards,” you can hold a Mini-Reunion with your overseas campus friends.

6. It could be your last chance to see El Palo Alto – the original Stanford tree – before they cut it down for a new high-speed rail system.

5. Our Class Panel might just shine some light on possibilities for your future, now that you’re moving toward the end of your first (or 15th?) career.

4. You can finally take those famous professors’ classes without worrying about the grades.

3. How many great parties do you attend these days – especially where you can embarrass yourself dancing without social or professional repercussions?

2. If you were planning to put off attending until our 50th, you might wish to reconsider. You’re not getting any younger.

1. Your old friends and classmates want to see you. You are a part of their lives.

We hope you’ll join us!

Friday, October 22

LOCATION TBD
F. Scott Fitzgerald has been famously quoted as saying “There are no second acts in American lives.” The Class of 1970 intends to prove him wrong. Our panelists will share their efforts in reinventing themselves as they enter their sixties. As a class forged in the crucible of the 1960’s, we will discover that classmates have taken to heart the best impulses of that era and are directing new vocations, avocations, passions, causes, goals, and projects towards good works and public spiritedness. The panel will serve as a clearinghouse for inspired ideas and a springboard in perhaps launching some of us on to our own next acts.
